seek, share, rejoice - pastor's letter...

Fr. Jerry Boland, Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

"At the name of Jesus, every knee will bend"

Rome, Italy.

Greetings from your favorite international correspondent. I am writing to you during our parish pilgrimage to Italy. Hard to believe this is my 8th pilgrimage as pastor of OLPH. We are almost 50 strong with an ambitious itinerary.

Our journey begins in Rome. I have come to see Rome more as a verb than a noun. It can be for me more of a way of being than a place. Here antiquity co-exists with modernity. Amid ancient monuments an emerging generation is dreaming of the future and building upon what has been handed down.

There is a palpable buzz in the air regarding the Church. We are entering what may be the most consequential time for the Church since the Second Vatican Council.

This week the Holy Father will create 21 new Cardinals. One of them is a native Chicagoan, Archbishop Robert Provost OSA who is currently the head of the Dicastery of Bishops. In keeping with the Pope's vision of a global church who listens to everyone, the Cardinals come from the far reaches of the earth.

This weekend the Pope will convene the Synod of Bishops for three weeks. This is an unprecedented gathering in which several of the delegates are lay people. One of the Vice Presidents of the synod is a religious sister. The synod's agenda has surfaced from the widest consultation on the challenges of being a "listening church". Literally every parish was invited to participate. Despite the pandemic, our parish council submitted our response which was included in a summary of all consultations in the Archdiocese of Chicago, then forwarded to the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops, which then sent a national summary that joined the other countries in the world.

We need to pray for the success of this effort, it may be very influential in shaping the direction of the Church for years to come. Never has there been such a representative body of the global church gathered around the table with so many voices.

The Pope wants to recover the ancient tradition of the Synod as a governance structure grounded in the process of listening to the guidance and direction of the Holy Spirit.

There are some who are very afraid of this Synod. They resist the possibility of the Holy Spirit leading us to new ways like the Council of Jerusalem in the first century or the Second Vatican Council of the 1960's. There are those who the Pope has described as living in the past, afraid of the world and the future. "Come Holy Spirit and Renew the Face of the Earth."

In addition to all this, the highly anticipated encyclical of Pope Francis on the environment will be released on the Feast of St. Francis Assisi.

Pope Francis' encyclical, Laudato Si, was a profound assessment of the challenges we face in our care for our common home, the earth. The Pope accepts the science of climate change and at that time faced much criticism. All the Pope's conclusions about the threats to our environment have proven true. He feels we are at a critical crossroads in confronting the forces that threaten the well-being of our planet. This new encyclical will be a clarion call for action. The Pope believes there is a moral imperative to being stewards of creation.

I am grateful to Jim Reilly and our ministry here at the parish that was born out of the vision of Laudato Si.

We had a marvelous visit this week to the Church of St Alphonse here in Rome where the original icon of Our Lady of Perpetual Help is venerated. I held all of you in prayer as together we seek the intercession of Our Lady of Perpetual Help. This icon is one of the most venerated in Rome and has been in the custody of the Redemptorist Fathers.

Please remember the repose of the soul of the brother of Fr. Patrick Kizza. His name was Gabriel.

Next weekend we begin our stewardship program. Every so often we need to reflect on how I am being a faithful steward of my time, talent and treasure. We will be entering a process together. God has blessed all of us and especially our parish over the 104 years of our existence.

Our Lady of Perpetual Help. Pray for us!

Ciao Bello,

Fr. Jerry Boland

OLPH Parish Survey Results

This week we continue to share with you results of the OLPH parishwide survey* we conducted last spring. The survey results identified both strengths and opportunities, and will provide useful insights as we explore how we can grow as a faith community.

A Sendoff for Sharing Volunteer, Mary Lou Jarvis

Mary Lou Jarvis has worked the Sharing Room for well over 10 years, leading Sunday morning efforts for much of that time. She has built an incredible team of volunteers who, alongside her, sort clothing, housewares and food, preparing it for delivery to the outlets we serve. Her joyful spirit is contagious, the energy in the room palpable. Quite literally, 10s of thousands of lives have been touched by her diligent service.

We are happy for her, but sad for us, that she will be moving out of state to be closer to her children. Hers will be big shoes to fill, and actually, she is training 14 people to take her place!

Deep blessings to Mary Lou as she steps into this next chapter of her life.

OLPH BOOK CLUB

OLPH Book Club returns with a new adventure in reading!

Come and join Fr. Jim as Book Club is back with a brand new book!

On September 7, Fr James Martin SJ, published his new book titled, "Come Forth: The Promise of Jesus' Greatest Miracle".

"Come Forth" explores the story of Jesus's greatest miracle-the raising of Lazarus – and what it means when he calls each of us to "come forth". With great compassion and wisdom, Fr Martin leads us verse by verse, offering profound reflections on Jesus's lesson of love, family, sadness, frustration, fear, anger, freedom and joy.

Each chapter has a list of questions at the end so we can reflect on the chapter.

Fr Martin is the author of many books that have been widely received over the years. Among them are: "A Pilgrimage, Learning to Pray", "Seven Last Words", and "Building Bridges."

The sessions will be three consecutive Wednesdays in November: 11/1, 11/8 and 11/15 at 7:00pm in Flavin Hall in the Rectory lower level. The entrance is the stairwell on the east side.

Please email me at:

jbarrett@olphglenview.org

or leave a message at 224.521.9348, so I will know how many chairs I will need.

Since the book is so new, you may wish to order it at Bookends & Beginnings in Evanston (224.999.7722), Barnes and Noble or through Harper Collins.

Looking forward to seeing you in November!

Fr Jim

Youth Ministry

I recently received an email from a family asking, "Can you please explain being a Youth Ministry member?" An excellent inquiry from a family whose daughter is very involved. I thought, "If they are wondering this, many others might be, too." So . . .

What is Youth Ministry at OLPH?

Our Mission: To dynamically engage our teens in the life of our OLPH parish and create a presence on campus and in our community, through a variety of experiences of worship and service, friendship and fun.

Our Youth Ministry program is founded and built on the two oars of our Catholic faith: worship and service, loving God and loving others - while having fun with other teenagers. All 7th-12th graders are welcome.

We regularly gather on Sundays twice each month from 5:00-7:30pm. We begin each Youth Ministry evening with Mass at 5:00pm, ministered by our teens. After Mass we walk to our Youth Room for a meal, games and the activity of the evening.

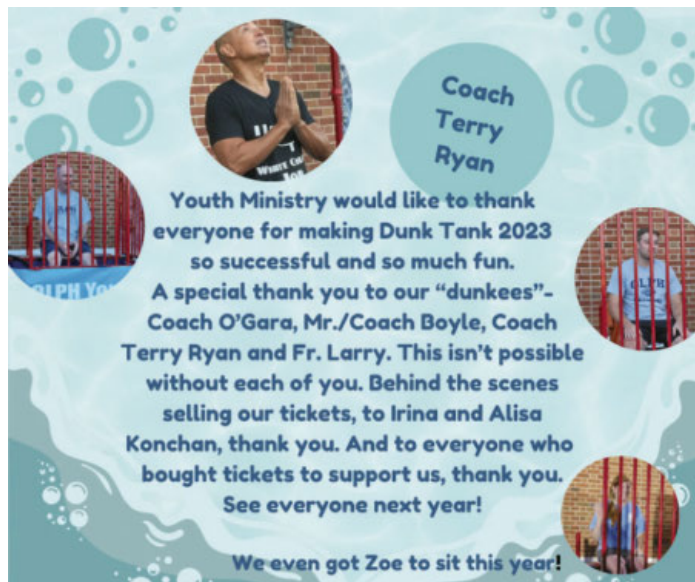

Check out our amazing Youth Room!

One Sunday is Youth Group, the more "worship oar" of our program, the other Sunday is Spaghetti and Service, the more "service oar" of our program. We are hoping to add some "open gym" times to our program soon. There are also many additional "pop-up" opportunities throughout the year.

We offer trainings for our Confirmed teens to serve as lectors and Eucharistic Ministers at our weekly Masses and Russell Stern welcomes all teen musicians to join the Music Ministry.

To receive information about Youth Ministry and upcoming events please text OLPHYM to 84576 or email Zoe Sundstrom at

OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL HELP CHURCH

HELP US "BRIDGE THE GAP"

Our "BRIDGE THE GAP" campaign, with your help, will assist us to get back on track with our fiscal year budget.

It is normal for us to experience a dip in collections during the slower summer months.

However, we do not want the year to get away from us before it is fully underway. Last year tracked below budget for the entire year.

Our FY24 budget for the general offertory collection, which includes Christmas and Easter, is $3.2 million. We need to reach this goal to make certain we can cover continued increasing costs, mainly in salaries and benefits (8%) and planned maintenance expenses (16%). These areas are vital to the life of the parish.

Direct support to the School and Religious Education programs is also provided out of the general offertory collection. Our First Fruits program benefits from 6% of the annual collection, as well.

Please see the GiveCentral links (right) to make your donation today. Thank you for your continued commitment to OLPH!
