seek, share, rejoice - this week's readings and more...

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Below are key excerpts from Sunday's readings

First Reading:

What more was there to do for my vineyard that I had not done? Why, when I looked for the crop of grapes, did it bring forth wild grapes? (Is 5:4)

Psalm:

The vineyard of the Lord is the house of Israel. (Is 5:7a)

Second Reading:

Keep on doing what you have learned and received and heard and seen in me. Then the God of peace will be with you. (Phil 4:9)

Gospel:

"What will the owner of the vineyard do to those tenants when he comes?" They answered him, "He will put those wretched men to a wretched death and lease his vineyard to other tenants." (Mt 21:41)

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD. The English translation of Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved. ©LPI

Questions of the week

1st Reading Question

Isaiah speaks of God's frustration over the people of Judah (the Lord's "cherished plant") who have not yielded a good crop. How do you encourage family or friends to live up to their potential?

2nd Reading Question

Paul teaches the Philippians that prayer and positive thoughts are key to avoiding anxiety and experiencing the peace of God. What are some positive thoughts you focus on when you are stressed or anxious?

Gospel Question

Jesus harshly criticizes the chief priests and Pharisees in the Parable of the Tenants. How do you deliver legitimate criticism to someone you care about?

Catholic Trivia - Just for Fun

Question: What words does a Eucharistic minister say before giving the Eucharist to a communicant?

Answer: The Body of Christ/The Blood of Christ

Meditation on Sunday's Gospel

Matthew 21: 33-43

Have you ever felt like your attempts at prayer are a waste of time? I have. Early in my priesthood, I noticed that my prayer life was weakening. Awe and eager expectancy of contact with God had given way to routine. I gradually spent less and less time praying. Nothing dramatic had happened, but my attitude toward God had changed, and I was losing the desire to pray.

Jesus' parable of the insane vineyard tenants speaks into this kind of experience. He says the landowner "leased it to tenants and went on a journey" (Matthew 21:33). The key to this message is that the vineyard does not belong to those who work it — they are entrusted with it. But little by little, they view it as their possession, and ungrateful entitlement follows. The servants sent by the owner are treated as intrusions. Even the owner's son becomes a means to their delusional self-will. The central tragedy is not violence but the forgetfulness that spawns it. They need reminding how lucky they are to be given so much.

Eventually, God sent friends to remind me that my relationship with Him and my prayer time are not my possessions, but rather God's tremendous gifts to me. Perhaps you are feeling discouraged for some reason or other these days in your walk with God.

Ponder this parable and let it be a gentle reminder that you and I are fortunate stewards, and God is the generous giver. This allows us to rediscover the beauty of the vineyards in our lives and to remain energetic in cultivating his gifts.

— Father John Muir

GUILD 9 SLEEPING BAG DRIVE

SUPPORTING THE UNHOUSED IN CHICAGOLAND

OCTOBER 1-15, 2026

WHY IT MATTERS

Chicago winters are brutal. For those without shelter, a sleeping bag isn't just warmth—it's survival.

Just one sleeping bag can provide a safe, warm place for sleep for a child or adult in need.

WHAT WE NEED

- New or gently used sleeping bags
- Must be rated for subzero temperatures
- Clean and in good condition

EVERY BAG MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Your donation could be the reason someone sleeps safely tonight. Let's wrap our community in warmth—one sleeping bag at a time.

HOW TO DONATE

- DROP-OFF LOCATION
- OLPH Sharing Resource Center bins
Tues & Thurs: 7am-12pm
Sunday: 8am-12pm
- Prefer home pickup/dropoff?
email kilbymacfadden@gmail.com

Want to donate online? Scan the QR code to send a sleeping bag directly to St. Sabina

Respect Life Begins With Love

by Alyssa Augustyn

"Love one another. As I have loved you, so you also should love one another." — John 13:34

What does it mean to be Catholic?

We could give many answers. We believe in the Eucharist. We receive the Sacraments. We pray, worship, serve, and seek to follow the teachings of the Church.

But at the heart of our faith is a command from Jesus that is both simple and demanding: love one another as I have loved you.

And how does Christ love us?

He does not love humanity only in the abstract. He loves each of us personally.

Saint Augustine expressed this beautifully: "God loves each of us as if there were only one of us."

Think about what that means.

Every person we encounter is someone whom God knows, loves, and created intentionally. The person sitting beside us at Mass. The teenager who feels like an outsider. The mother wondering how she will care for her child. The couple longing for a baby. The person living with a disability. The elderly neighbor who feels forgotten. The person approaching the end of life.

Each one is loved by God as if there were only one.

That is the foundation of human dignity—and the heart of what it means to respect life.

As Catholics, we believe that every human being is created in the image and likeness of God. Our dignity is not something we earn. It does not depend on our age, health, abilities, independence, circumstances, or whether we are planned or unplanned, strong or vulnerable.

Saint John Paul II described the Gospel of life, the dignity of the human person, and the Gospel of God's love as "a single and indivisible Gospel." He called the Church to build a culture in which the dignity of every person is protected and honored "at every moment and in every condition of that person's life."

Respecting life is not simply about defending a principle. It is about loving a person.

Sometimes that means advocating for an unborn child.

Sometimes it means learning about fertility and caring for our bodies according to their God-given design.

Sometimes it means accompanying a couple through infertility or miscarriage.

Sometimes it means welcoming a child through adoption.

Sometimes it means sitting with someone who is sick or disabled.

Sometimes it means visiting an elderly parishioner.

Sometimes it means helping a family who is struggling to make ends meet.

Sometimes it means simply refusing to let another person feel invisible.

None of these situations are identical. But each presents us with the same fundamental question:

How can I show God's love to others?

This is why Respect Life belongs at the heart of our Catholic faith. It is not a ministry reserved for a particular age group, political viewpoint, or stage of life. It belongs to all of us because the call to love belongs to all of us.

And love, as Jesus teaches us, is not merely a feeling.

Love asks something of us.

It asks us to notice.

To accompany.

To sacrifice.

To serve.

To protect.

To welcome.

To see the dignity of another person even when their circumstances are difficult to understand.

A culture of life is built through these ordinary acts of love.

It is built in families, classrooms, friendships, marriages, hospitals, nursing homes, workplaces, and parish communities.

It is built whenever we choose to see the person in front of us not according to what they can do for us, how convenient their life is, or what circumstances surround them, but according to what they truly are: a person made in the image and likeness of God.

In the coming months, our Respect Life Ministry will explore what this looks like in practical ways. We will talk about women's health and fertility, Natural Family Planning, breastfeeding, pregnancy and motherhood, infertility and pregnancy loss, adoption, caring for those who are sick or disabled, accompaniment at the end of life, and practical ways our parish can support families and individuals in need.

These are different subjects, but they are connected by one truth:

Every human life is worthy of love because every human person is loved by God.

Our hope is that this series will not simply give us more information about respecting life. We hope it will help all seek, share, rejoice - respect life...

of us to ask what it means to actually live this part of our Catholic faith. Because ultimately, a culture of life does not begin with a program. It begins with how we see.

And when we learn to see the dignity of the person in front of us, we are given the opportunity to do what Christ asked of us from the beginning:

to love one another as He has loved us.

Alyssa with her husband and daughter

About Alyssa Augustyn

Alyssa is a wife and mother who has a personal passion for building a culture of life. After years of painful cycles and a diagnosis of endometriosis, she discovered the Creighton Model FertilityCare System and the importance of understanding and caring for women's health through Restorative Reproductive Medicine (RRM).

She is the co-creator (along with her husband) of Well Within, a mobile application resource dedicated to helping women better understand their cycles, fertility, and health through the lens of the Catholic faith. Alyssa and her husband hope to help make the Church's vision for a culture of life practical and personal for women and families.

Small Change. Big Impact

Help young mothers in difficult circumstances

The OLPH Respect Life Ministry is supporting local crisis pregnancy centers with the Baby Bottle Project. Returning a bottle full of coins, bills and checks, will help those served by Aid for Women and The Women's Centers, who counsel and support mothers considering abortion.

Other options:

- Go to GiveCentral.org to make your donation
- drop a check made out to OLPH at the Parish Center or in the collection basket.

Voting is a moral obligation

"In the Catholic Tradition, responsible citizenship is a virtue, and participation in political life is a moral obligation. ... Unfortunately, politics in our country often can be a contest of powerful interests, partisan attacks, sound bites, and media hype. The Church calls for a different kind of political engagement: one shaped by the moral convictions of well-formed consciences and focused on the dignity of every human being, the pursuit of the common good, and the protection of the weak and the vulnerable." - U.S. Catholic Bishops

Don't wait!

Support our Luke!

Hi OLPH Family!

It's Luke Lato here, your home-grown seminarian! I am currently approaching another start line! I am running the Chicago Marathon on October 11 for the third time!! It has been an incredible training, and I am so excited to run for The Mission of Our Lady of the Angels.

For those of you who do not know them, they are a Franciscan religious order who serve the poor and suffering of the West Side of Chicago. They feed over 700 hundred families every Tuesday at their food pantry and serve countless others throughout the week. They are like family to me. I really do call these sisters my sisters.

With that said, it would mean the absolute world to me if you would support my fundraising campaign for them. It would be an honor to have you be part of my journey and then pray for you during my marathon.

You better believe the pain of those last 6 miles will be offered for all of you here at OLPH!

Thank you again for all your support and know of my continued prayers for you all.

Peace,

Luke Lato
