Meditation on Sunday's Gospel

Matthew 22: 15-21

Occasionally, I'll slip into a parish I've never visited before, pick up the Bulletin, and find one of my Gospel reflections. My heart usually swells with a bit of affection for my creation. I imprint a bit of myself into my little "literary labors of love." Anyone who has created something — a piece of writing, a garden, a meal, a child — knows that feeling. We love the things into which we put ourselves. We are happy when they return to us.

With this in mind, listen to Jesus' classic line in this Sunday's Gospel: "Then repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God" (Matthew 22:21). He presents this little riddle to deepen the theme from taxes to human beings.

A Roman coin bears Caesar's image, so it belongs to Caesar. Therefore, he has a legitimate claim to it. Fair enough. But what belongs to God? What bears His image? Every human being. God has imprinted Himself on every person. Which means everyone — including Caesar — belongs entirely to Him. Jesus, who is God's perfect image, has come to draw everyone back to God.

We can be tempted to imagine that our lives are made up of "things for God" and "things not for God." The good news is that no such division is possible because everything in life is a gift from God to us. Therefore, all is meant to be placed at the service of God's kingdom. He loves everything He has created. We have the privilege of giving it all back to Him.

— Father John Muir

Voting is a moral obligation

"In the Catholic Tradition, responsible citizenship is a virtue, and participation in political life is a moral obligation. ... Unfortunately, politics in our country often can be a contest of powerful interests, partisan attacks, sound bites, and media hype. The Church calls for a different kind of political engagement: one shaped by the moral convictions of well-formed consciences and focused on the dignity of every human being, the pursuit of the common good, and the protection of the weak and the vulnerable." - U.S. Catholic Bishops

Don't wait!

Make your plans now for voting in this year's November 3rd election.

- For important information and deadlines related to voting in this year's election, check out the Illinois League of Women Voters' VOTE411.org webpage.

If you have a problem registering or getting to the polls to vote, contact Pax Christi Illinois at 630-904-3859 or email nloetter@comcast.net.
